

The University of Minnesota Graduate Conference in Philosophy

Philosophy on Ice February 29th - March 1st, 2008

Call for Papers

The graduate students at the University of Minnesota invite submissions from current and incoming graduate students in all areas of philosophy. We are pleased to announce our keynote speaker:

J. David Velleman, New York University

Submission Guidelines

Submissions are due by December 10, 2007. Submissions must meet the following criteria:

- (1) Papers must be approximately 3000 words, or suitable for a 20 minute presentation.
- (2) Papers should be free of identifying information, i.e. suitable for blind review.
- (3) Submissions should also include a cover page or separate document with the author's name, email address, address, phone number, affiliation, and a brief abstract.

Please submit your paper via email to umnphilgrads@gmail.com as an attachment in .doc, .pdf, or .rtf file format with the word 'submission' in the subject line.

We are also accepting offers to comment on papers. If you are interested in commenting on a paper, please email us at the above address with your areas of interest or specialization.

For more information please contact us at the above email address with the word 'question' in the subject line, or visit our conference website at: philosophy.umn.edu/gradconference.htm
